Instructor: Miss Sarah Quigg

Location: EHS Room 316

Phone: 717.721.1478 x19343 (office)

Email: s_quigg@easdpa.org

Course Description: This course is ideal for students who enjoy working with animals, both pets and livestock. The digestive, immune, and reproductive systems will be covered. Management aspects including health, housing, behavior, nutrition, selection, and welfare will also be included. Students will also be introduced to basic diagnostics and emergency medicine. As a culminating activity, students will report on current journal articles relating to topics of personal interest. Field trips, guest speakers, and dissections may be incorporated throughout the course to provide hands on experience and highlight career opportunities in the field.

Course Goals: Students will:

- Explain considerations made when purchasing/selecting an animal
- Describe how to balance an animal's diet
- Identify the organs and functions of the digestive system
- Be able to identify the signs of healthy animals
- Use diagnostic tools to identify specific diseases
- Explain current reproductive technologies
- Discuss how animal behavior impacts handling and facility design
- Discuss common consumer concerns with animal industries

Primary Texts:

- The Science of Animal Agriculture by Ray Herren. Delmar Publishers, 1994.
- Modern Livestock and Poultry Production by James R. Gillespie. Delmar Publishers, 5th edition, 1997.

Attendance: Your attendance is expected at each class. Work missed for unexcused absences cannot be made up. Excusal policies are outlined in the EHS Student Handbook.

Clothing: Safety procedures and expectations for specific labs will be reviewed prior to beginning these activities. Specific required clothing (i.e. long pants, closed toe shoes, etc) is outline in the Student Safety Contract. Optional items like jackets or work clothing will also be suggested based on the nature of the activity. Students failing to dress appropriately for a lab receive an automatic ZERO and will not be allowed to participate.

Grading:

Marking period grades:

$$\frac{\text{Points earned}}{\text{Possible points}} \times 100 = \text{Marking Period \%}$$

Final course grade:

The final exam grade includes a written test and the final journal report with extensions; it will be calculated in the same manner as marking period grades (points earned out of possible points). The final exam grade counts as an additional marking period grade, making it worth 20% of the course grade.

$$\frac{\text{MP1 \%} + \text{MP2 \%} + \text{MP3 \%} + \text{MP4 \%} + \text{Final \%}}{500 \text{ points}} = \text{Course \%} = \text{Letter grade}$$

The grading scale aligns with the district's grading policy:

A 93-100    A- 90-92
B+ 88-89    B 83-87    B- 80-82
C+ 78-79    C 73-77    C- 70-72
D+ 68-69    D 63-67    D- 60-62
F 0-59

Example:

A student earns an 88% for MP1, a 92% for MP2, a 95% for MP3, an 84% for MP4, and a 65% on the final. His/her grade would be calculated as follows:

$$\frac{88 + 92 + 95 + 84 + 65}{500} = 85 = B$$

Assessments:

Classwork: Students will be graded on in class participation in debates or discussions. In addition to answering questions, following directions, staying on task, and listening attentively will also be considered when assessing participation.

Homework assignments: Homework typically consists of completion of in-class assignments and projects as needed. Homework should be completed outside of class and should be turned in on the date it is due.

Quizzes: Quizzes will be based on assigned readings and in-class materials, activities, and discussions. Students may use their notes and any worksheets/handouts in their notebooks.

Projects/Exams: At least five unit assessments will be given in this course. The tentative date of each exam or project due date will be announced a week in advance and may be adjusted as needed. Exams will cover information and activities given in class as well as homework assignments and may include but are not limited to multiple choice, true/false, short answer, and essay questions. Students will be given the full period to complete each exam. Absence from an exam must be documented by an EHS approved excuse (note from the Attendance Office) in order to be made up. Projects, papers, and presentations may also serve as unit assessments.

NOTES:

- All late work will receive a deduction based on the following scale:
  - One day late: 10% deduction
  - Two days late: 30% deduction
  - Three days late: automatic zero, no opportunity to submit for grade
- Deductions are taken from the grade the student earns on the assignment.
  - Ex: If a student earns a 35/40 but turns the assignment in
ONE day late, he/she will earn 31.5/40
TWO days late, he/she will earn 24.5/40
THREE or MORE days late, he/she will earn 0/40
- Students who are absent the day an assignment is due are expected to submit the assignment the day they return to school. Students will receive the corresponding deduction if the assignment is submitted after their initial return.
  - Ex: If a student is absent Friday, and there is an assignment due (that was assigned that week or earlier in the marking period), and the student returns to school on Tuesday, the assignment is expected on Tuesday. Submitting it on Wednesday would result in a 10% deduction.
  - Students will be given extensions for assignments given the day of their absence(s) as outlined in the student handbook.
- Students who elect not to participate in specific labs must complete a two page paper covering the topic to replace the lab grade. Specific details regarding paper expectations are available from the teacher.
- Plagiarism will NOT be tolerated. See student handbook for academic consequences.

CLASS POLICIES AND ROUTINES

<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Behavior appropriate to high school students is expected.</li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Enter the room quietly, go to your assigned seat, and get out your class notes/materials. If there is an activity on the board, please begin working.</li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• You should have something to write with (pen/pencil) and your notebook with you every day. You do not need a textbook for this class – there are sets of textbooks in the classroom available for use. Non-graphing calculators are recommended and will be needed for specific activities.</li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• All purses and bags must be placed on the floor and out of the aisles. Do not keep them on the desks.</li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• I do not expect a silent room, but I do expect an orderly room. When someone is talking, you are to respect the speaker by being quiet and by listening.</li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• If you have a question, please raise your hand and ask. The only stupid questions are the ones you never ask!</li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Leaving class for bathroom, nurse, etc.<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ You MUST use your agenda or ask for a hall pass. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Absences<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ You are responsible for obtaining work and making up assignments you missed while you were absent</li><li>○ Ask a classmate what you missed and check the absentee bin BEFORE coming to me</li></ul></li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The following areas are considered off limits and are to be used on an “invitation ONLY” basis (students must be asked or told to enter):<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Miss Quigg’s office</li><li>○ FFA Office</li><li>○ Shop tool room</li><li>○ Loft</li><li>○ Storage room</li></ul></li></ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• FOOD AND DRINK (excluding water) ARE NOT PERMITTED IN THE CLASSROOM AT ANY TIME. If these items are in plain sight, they will be confiscated and placed in the trash can or poured down the drain. You may NOT pick them up after class or after school.
